Dear Debbie Hewitt

I've been a loyal member of the RAC for years. And I now see that you're the number one car breakdown service – well done! I'm sure it must partly be your slogan – RAC to the rescue.

I'm writing because I'm concerned that the made-up story of global warming is taking away the civil liberties of the motorist. Why shouldn't I be allowed to drive around assertively in my 4x4, keeping other traffic in order and letting know who's boss? It's as much a non-story as the antics of the nobodies on Big Brother, but with less flesh.

Don't Monibot and his cronies know that eco cars are for wimps? No eco car will ever be able to swerve round cyclists and pram pushers in the same way as my 4x4. So that's another few lives destroyed – though the cyclist is no cause for mourning.

And conveniently Monibot and co. ignore the UN saying that eco cars could bring famine and damage to the environment, because it will take the best land to grow the crops for biofuel.

What's needed is a campaign to stop the "greens" before it's too late. I was impressed with how the car industry killed off the electric car in California. Older women rather than nubile girls to promote the car, fake consumer groups to spread disinformation, buying up and then not using the technology to make the cars, long questionnaires for every potential customer and then rejecting them. There's a lot to be learned here.

As the leading motorists' organisation you would be excellently placed to stop the rot now. Maybe you could join forces with the AA to stop the Great Lie?

Anyway, keep on with your excellent work. Good luck to you and your fine organisation.

Yours sincerely

Peter Shullot
