Dear Malcolm Jones

I'll drive miles to go to one of your petrol stations. Because I know that it will mean good service, an excellent price and a choice of fags.

Like you, I care for this world, and I care for its people. I'm worried that we all being hoodwinked by concern about climate change. Surely it's clear that it's a smokescreen put up by the greens to pursue their anti-capitalist goals.

"Isn't the only hope for the planet that the industrialized civilizations collapse? Isn't it our responsibility to bring that about?"

That was said by Maurice Strong, Head of the 1992 Earth Summit in Rio de Janeiro. Doesn't it say it all?

There has to be an end to this covert attack on capitalism. If these Luddites have their way the world would turn red by stealth, with unelected commissars to tell us what to do and think, and won't tolerate any opposition. 1984 would be fact, not a film with John Hurt and Annie Lennox wailing on the soundtrack, or a year when England failed to qualify for the European Championship. Don't pay attention to the harbingers of doom saying you're doing too little, too late. You're doing just fine.

Now don't get me wrong. I'm all for free speech unless it's for the greens and the right to strike so long as it's by traffic wardens, and even the right to form a trade union so long as it's not in one of my industrial units, but something has to be done to put the greens in their place. I'd be interested to know of Total's plans to fight the green agenda.

In the meantime, good luck to you and your fine company.

Yours sincerely

Peter Shullot
